Coverage Solutions

DIC (Difference in Conditions) Coverage takes care of the gap in coverage between that provided by the local contracts and that provided by the Master, for the full limit of the Master. Therefore, if a loss is not covered by the local contract, the Master contract, with its broader cover, will pay the claims (provided the loss is covered).

DIL (Difference in Limits) Coverage takes care of the gap in limits between those provided by the local contract and those provided by the Master. Therefore, if the limit provided by the local contract is exhausted, the portion in excess of the local limit is covered by the master contract up to the specified limit.

Piece of Mind A World Wide program provides the same terms and conditions regardless of where a risk is located.
