Coverage Solutions

Increasingly, people are showing a willingness to turn to the courts when they believe that the goods or services they receive are not satisfactory. Even if you are not at fault, defending yourself in court is a costly business and a threat to your financial security.

Issues arising from Professional Liability, or Malpractice, are of great concern to both you, the professional, and your client. There was a time when socially your client would never have even considered bringing an action against you. Times have changed and today you could be a target for lawsuits.

Are You Protected?

You can be sued! Other liability policies do not respond to suits involving professional services or advice. Nor do they cover any legal disputes involving pure financial loss. Errors & Omissions insurance partners with your Commercial General Liability coverage, filling in any dangerous gaps.

- * Are you a professional or an expert in your chosen field?
- * Is the work you do skilled and specialized?
- * Do your professional duties involve providing advice or services?
- * Do your customers expect a high degree of service?
- * Does your profession demand a high degree of moral standards?

If you answered yes to any of the above, you may be vulnerable to lawsuits that most business insurance policies don't cover!
