Offer Sustainable Solutions?

Risk Management for the Renewable Energy Sector

With an increased demand for renewable energy, Jones DesLauriers Insurance Management Inc. (JDIMI), specializes in providing professional risk management services and solutions for the diversified renewable energy sector.

Our dedicated staff understands this particular industry and the unique challenges it faces. This specialization and expertise allows us to bring innovative risk management services to our current and potential clients. Our risk management solutions can significantly reduce the direct and indirect costs associated with risk in this industry such as insurance rates, cost of deductibles, loss of reputation, loss of income, research and development costs and many more.

Why JDIMI Insurance?

Most insurance professionals in the insurance industry take a reactive approach to insurance programs. They address problems after they occur, and create strategies to control your costs after they have become unmanageable. At JDIMI we facilitate a highly proactive approach which will control your costs in the short term, and decrease them over the long term.

Solutions to Reduce Risk

The team at JDIMI will take the time to visit your organization and examine its current risk management practices. From this assessment we will create a fully customized and quantified Risk Management Plan which will make you more attractive to the insurance marketplace, reduce your insurance rates, improve your company operations and create preventative strategies.
